Blaine's Wonderful Reception by the People of New York.

HIS ROUTE A MONSTER OVATION

The Democrats Hold a Big Mass Meeting in Ohio—Hendricks Makes a Speech and Cleveland Writes a Letter

SYRACUSE, Sept. 25.—At 9:30 Blaine left Syracuse to attend the Oswego fair. A committee from the fair association came up on the early train to escort Blaine and party to the grounds. As usual, he was compelled to hold an informal reception. He was escorted to a carriage and driven around the grounds, so that the people might have a chance to see him. When he got up on the stand he was loudly cheered, and there were shouts of "clear the stand," "clear the stand." Other occupants sat down, leaving Blaine the conspicuous figure. This seemed to please the crowd greatly, for they cheered again and again. Mr. Merriam, president of the fair association, introduced Blaine as one of America's most honored citizens. Blaine waited for the cheering to subside, and then said:

"There is no year of history in the United States in which, through all its borders, the agriculturist has rejoiced as he does this year. There are no politics in agriculture. [Applause.] The crop for the democrat and for the republican is alike good or bad. Need of products is alike to democrat and to republican. We meet, therefore, on an agricultural fair grounds, if no where else, on the broad plane of American citizenship, [cries of "good" and cheers] which is a much higher title than that of democrat or republican. [Enthusiastic applause.] It is in that capacity I stand before you this morning, and it is in that capacity I extend to you my congratulations, and my very hearty thanks for your generous reception." [Great cheers.]

At 11 o'clock the party started on the return to Syracuse. They stopped off a few minutes at Baldwinsville, where Blaine was introduced to almost a thousand citizens, to whom he addressed courteous words of acknowledgment.

OFF FOR AUBURN.

At 12:10 P. M. the party started for Auburn in the same car in which they came from New York yesterday. The depot and space along the track were filled with people eager to see Blaine, and as the train moved away he appeared on the rear of the platform and was cheered.

At Seneca Falls there was another large gathering, which gave Blaine a most enthusiastic greeting. He made a short speech.

AT WATERLOO AND GENEVA.

The next stop was at Waterloo, where Blaine left the train to visit the Seneca county agricultural fair. He was escorted to the grounds by plumed knights of Waterloo, and by a great crowd. The agricultural association had arranged to charge twenty-five cents a head for admission, but after Blaine's carriage entered the grounds the people followed in a great body, and forced their way in, regardless of the efforts of the gatekeepers. Many ladies were in the assemblage. Blaine's presence aroused great enthusiasm.

When called on for a speech Blaine stood up in the carriage and said that he did not feel qualified to make a suitable speech at an agricultural fair, but he had [illegible] a practical farmer, Martin I. Townsend, whom he would introduce. (Laughter.)

Townsend and Thurston having spoken, the plumed knights escorted Blaine back to the train. There were repeated calls for "Good Blaine," before he left the grounds, but he responded only by bowing.

At 3:10 the train arrived at Geneva. A salute was fired as the train came into the station, and in a few minutes several thousand people gathered at the rear of the train.

When order was restored Blaine [illegible] thanked the people for their kindly greeting, and then said: [illegible] men of the United States [illegible] by unselfish devotion to public duty [illegible] that in paying this testimony [illegible] you who knew him so well and [illegible] years enjoyed his friendship."

Senator Lapham joined the party at Geneva.

GREAT DEMONSTRATION AT ROCHESTER.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sept. 25.—It is impossible to do justice by description to the reception which Blaine received in Rochester. Its magnitude and enthusiasm [illegible] About three-quarters of an hour [illegible] the stand erected on the court house steps. [illegible] returned the salutations. The street was filled with a dense mass of men and women, and every door [illegible] The [illegible] formerly the leading hotel of Rochester, but now transformed into a business building, was crowded with people [illegible] was the fame of Powers block and [illegible] building along the route. [illegible] ments had been made for Blaine and his friends to reach the stand via the rear of the court house, for it would have been [illegible] to make a passage way through the dense crowd in front.

As soon as Blaine had got upon the stand the colored jubilee singers of Fisk university, Tennessee, sang, with great effect, one of their stirring songs, which was loudly applauded.

BLAINE'S REMARKS.

Mr. Barrett, chairman of the Monroe county central committee, introduced Blaine, who was received with tremendous cheering. When order was restored Blaine, speaking slowly and impressively, so that his voice reached nearly every member of the great audience, said: "I am sure that no desire to offer a personal compliment to any living man could have brought this vast audience together, and I have not the vanity to accept it as offered to myself. It is rather an expression, by this great assemblage of people of western New York, of their confidence in those principles which have brought prosperity to our country and have built your own beautiful city as one of the examples and illustrations of that prosperity. [Applause.] Republicanism embodies in its creed four distinct and important doctrines: First, peace with the whole world (applause); second, commercial expansion in every practicable direction (applause); third, encouragement of every form of American industry (enthusiastic applause); fourth, protection to every citizen, native or naturalized, at home or abroad (renewed applause). Under these policies, the republican party strives to conduct the government, and on these principles the republican party submits itself to the judgment of the American people. On these principles we conquer, or on these we are conquered. I thank you, gentlemen; I thank you from the bottom of my heart for whatever in this splendid ovation is personal to myself, but I ask your attention with especial emphasis to the importance of those questions which I have briefly referred to." (Great and prolonged cheering.)

WHAT BLAINE SAID.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—[Special.]—The [illegible] Albany special says: Blaine has expressed the greatest satisfaction with [illegible] tion. He was well pleased with the [illegible] of enthusiastic people all along [illegible] At Albany [illegible] his heart. As the train was starting, he said to Senator Harris: "It is a vast multitude. Do you notice what interest is taken by the working people in this campaign? Do you observe the [illegible] men from the workshops?" He said this with evident pleasure [illegible] the situation. In all the trip Mr. Blaine has been in buoyant spirits. Speaking of his health he said: "Democratic papers have reported that I am in exceeding poor health. One of the objects of my trip is to show the people to the contrary. I have not been in better health for many years."

AT BUFFALO.

BUFFALO, Sept. 25.—At Batavia a delegation of 125 gentlemen from Buffalo came on board the train. When the party arrived in the Buffalo depot, at 8 o'clock, there was already a great crowd. Blaine, escorted by Chairman Warren and the local committee, entered a carriage and passed up between rows of uniformed knights and other political clubs, bearing torches, and for the ensuing three hours he was driven through the principal streets and received an ovation which it would take columns to describe. The people, men, women and children, were so densely packed together in the streets that the police had all they could do to make a way for the carriage. The wildest enthusiasm prevailed. At a few points along the route there were cheers for Cleveland and shouts of "Cleveland's the man," but nearly all these demonstrations were made by boys, and every where the greatest good humor prevailed.

At a few minutes past 11 o'clock the procession passed the Tift house, and Blaine's party went in by the rear entrance, the crowd in front being too great. Almost immediately Blaine had to show himself on the balcony, and for nearly an hour he stood viewing the procession and bowing his acknowledgements.

An enthusiastic demonstration was made by the people in the street. There were more than 10,000 men in line, and a local estimate is that at least 50,000 people were in the streets. The display of fire works was very fine. It was very near midnight when the end of the procession passed the hotel, and Blaine stepped into the hotel from the balcony, but he had hardly got into his room when the Buffalo glee club came to give him a serenade.

THE ROUTE TO OHIO.

BUFFALO, Sept. 25.—Blaine and party leave here [illegible], reaching Dunkirk at 1 o'clock, Erie, Pa., 2:20, stopping there [illegible] minutes; Ashtabula, Ohio, 4:10, stopping [illegible]; Painesville, Ohio, 5:30, stopping for an hour, and arrive at Cleveland at 7.

DEMOCRATIC DEMONSTRATION.

A Great Mass Meeting Held at Columbus—A Letter from Cleveland.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Sept. 25.—The state mass meeting of Cleveland and Hendricks clubs brought forty organizations to the city and from 10,000 to 15,000 people. In the afternoon the meeting was presided over by Senator Thurman, who made introductory speeches, and in remarks on introducing the different persons Senator Bayard of Delaware made the main speech, on the growth of the democratic party since the war on ideas of reform and constitutional government, which had been developed with its progress. Other speeches were made by [illegible] Henry B. Payne, Robert McLane (Maryland) and Senator Doolittle (Wisconsin). Governor Hendricks was given an ovation, but postponed his address until evening.

A conference was afterward held of delegates of democratic clubs throughout the state, at which a constitution and by-laws were adopted, perfecting a consolidated organization, and arranging for [illegible] association, for which officers will be elected on Jackson day, January 8, 1885.

In the evening a grand street parade was given in connection with the display of fireworks. Speeches were made from four different platforms of Capitol square, and addresses were made by Senators Bayard, Pendleton, Payne, Doolittle, General Mansur of Missouri, Congressman [illegible] of Boston, [illegible] General Durbin Ward and others.

HENDRICKS' SPEECH.

Governor Hendricks spoke at the [illegible] He was introduced by Thurman. He said he had just come from [illegible]

[illegible] thing was wrong between the republicans and the Germans, and the latter would not support Blaine, the differences having been widened by Blaine's conduct [illegible] prohibition in Maine. The speech closed with an appeal for citizens to vote for Cleveland and himself. He was followed by Carlisle and others.

A LETTER FROM CLEVELAND.

At the conclusion of the speech a letter from Cleveland was read:

EXECUTIVE MANSION,
ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. [illegible]

My Dear Sir: I have your letter [illegible] that the [illegible] meeting to be held in Columbus, September 25. I hope the meeting will be a complete success and that it will be the means of increasing the enthusiasm already aroused for the cause of good government. I believe that the voters of the country are fully alive to the necessity of installing an administration of public affairs which shall be truly their own, not only because it is the result of their choice, but because its selected instrumentalities are brought fresh from the body of the people and in harmony with the people's thoughts and sentiments. They are tired, I think, of a rule so long continued that it has bred and fostered a class standing between them and their public servants, and whose interests lie in public affairs coupled with partisan zeal and the advancement of personal advantage. Let me remind the people that if they seek to make their public servants feel their direct responsibility to them and be careful of their interests, their object will not be accomplished by [illegible] party which has grown arrogant with long-continued power. Let me impress upon the people that the issue involved in the [illegible] canvass is the establishment of a pure and honest administration of the government. Let them show them the way to this [illegible] paths of irrelevant discussion. With these discussions [illegible] with an earnest presentation of our [illegible] the confidence of the people and their [illegible] the result [illegible] Yours very truly,
GROVER CLEVELAND.

COLORADO DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

DENVER, Sept. [illegible]—The democratic state convention reassembled at 11 this morning and adopted resolutions endorsing the national democratic platform adopted at Chicago. The platform favors free and unlimited coinage of silver, and declares that by the nomination of James G. Blaine, an avowed enemy of the silver interest, the republican party has arrayed itself in open hostility to the vital interests of this state; opposes grant of public lands to railroads or other monopolies, and denounces the system of disposing of large tracts of state school lands to corporations [illegible]; favors the [illegible] preventing the introduction of contagious animal diseases; insists upon the strict laws regulating the liquor traffic, but opposes prohibition as unwise, illogical, unconstitutional and impracticable; denounces the policy of the general government in keeping tribes of Indians upon agricultural lands in southern Colorado, and demands legislation extinguishing all Indian reservations in the state and that the same be thrown open to actual settlers.

The convention nominated Andrew D. Wilson of Denver for lieutenant governor, and Charles S. Thomas of Leadville for congress. Adjourned to 2 this afternoon.

At the afternoon session the convention completed the ticket as follows: C. O. Unfug of Huerfano, secretary of state; Thomas Malone of Gunnison, treasurer; Harley B. Morse of [illegible], attorney general; Ansel Watrous of [illegible] [illegible] James B. Grant and Joseph [illegible], presidential electors. Adjourned sine die.

LOGAN'S MOVEMENTS IN WEST VIRGINIA.

WHEELING, Sept. 25.—Logan spent the forenoon at the residence of Hon. John Frew. Many prominent citizens of the city and state called to pay their respects. This afternoon Logan, ex-Senator Powell Clayton, Congressman Goff of this district and Hon. John W. Mason of the national committee, took a carriage, with the reception committee, and were escorted to the fair grounds by marching clubs, there being 20,000 in line. At the fair ground Chairman Cowden of the state central committee called the meeting to order and named Hon. W. P. Hubbard of this city, and Col. J. Henderson of Cambridge, Ohio, as joint chairmen. In introducing Gen. Logan Hubbard said: "The states of West Virginia and Ohio will please come to order." The crowd numbered 25,000. Gen. Logan was received with the wildest applause. His speech [illegible] tariff, and was followed by Powell Clayton and General Goff.

This evening W. D. Kelley of Philadelphia addressed a large audience [illegible], his subject being the protection of American industries. [illegible] They were reviewed by Logan, Clayton and Goff. It is estimated that 10,000 strangers are in the city this evening. Nothing like it was ever known in West Virginia before. Logan leaves early in the morning for Cleveland to meet Blaine.

SAD SUICIDE IN NEW YORK CITY

Mormons Warned to Leave Tennessee—Big Fire Raging at Pittsburg—News Items from Various Points.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—The president appointed Postmaster General Gresham secretary of the treasury this morning.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—Judge Gresham received a telegram from the president at 11 o'clock last night, informing him of his appointment to the secretaryship of the treasury. He immediately qualified and sent the president his resignation as postmaster general. At 10 o'clock this morning Gresham went to the treasury with Secretary Chandler. His appointment from the president was given him by O. L. Pruden, assistant private secretary to the president, and his commission by the third assistant secretary of state. Two assistant secretaries, French and Coon, were present and tendered their congratulations. The new secretary will leave this afternoon to consult with the president. Under the law, First Assistant Postmaster General Hatton becomes acting postmaster general for ten days.

[illegible] says: "Strong pressure was brought to bear on the new secretary to designate Assistant Secretary French to act in his absence. General Gresham said, however, that he was compelled to accept the recent designation of Mr. Coon as an indication that the president preferred to have him act. NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—[Special.]—Private cable dispatches received here state that at the annual meeting of the associated chambers of commerce to be held at Wolverhampton September 30 to October 1, a resolution is to be submitted from Birmingham in favor of urging the English government to promote a conference with other leading nations, with reference to the rehabilitation of silver as an international money. It is alleged that this action is taken to conform with the last act of the last congress, making an appropriation to continue negotiations with foreign governments respecting the establishment of a common ratio between gold and silver.

CATTLE DISEASE.

WESTCHESTER, Pa., Sept. 25.—Secretary Edge and Dr. B. Dodge again visited the farm of Wm. Dutton in Westown township, and examined a herd long afflicted with pleuro-pneumonia. The visit resulted in their ordering the herd killed, ten animals in number, thereby making in all seventeen killed.

TO-DAY'S WEATHER.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—Pacific coast: fair weather.

IN WALL STREET.

A Day of Fluctuation Ends in a General Advance—Quotations.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—Governments firm. Railways firm. Stocks opened strong and higher, on the announcement from Chicago that representatives of western and southwestern roads had settled their differences, and on a statement that the presidents of trunk lines had authorized the general managers and vice presidents to consider and agree upon a plan for the settlement of all difficulties and report Tuesday next, when the matter will be acted upon by the presidents. This brought about a buying movement and prices advanced ½ to 1. After midday New York Central was raided down 2¼ on reports that insiders were selling on [illegible] that there would be a fresh issue of bonds. This last mentioned rumor was promptly denied by the officers of the company. This break brought about a decline of ½ to 1 in other active shares, but subsequently selling was checked by the declaration of a quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent. by the Lake Shore directors.

In the afternoon the market fell away from New York Central, which continued weak, while the remainder of the list was strong. Pacific Mail was higher, on announcement that the export movement of provisions to China was assuming large proportions on account of the war. Union Pacific was strong throughout on comparatively light offerings. Louisville and Nashville [illegible] on rumors that funding negotiations were off, but later rallied slightly on an official denial of the report.

Compared with last night closing prices are [illegible] higher except for Louisville and Nashville and New York Central, which are [illegible] lower.

THE FIRE RECORD.

BIG FIRE RAGING AT PITTSBURG.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 25.—A disastrous fire broke out on the south side about half past 10 o'clock to-night, and at midnight is still raging. All of Smith & Co.'s extensive glass works, covering two acres, together with Robinson, Rea & Co.'s machine shop and five frame dwellings are already consumed, and as buildings in the vicinity are of the most combustible material, it is feared the flames will get beyond control of the fire department.

Fortunately the wind is not very high. The loss so far is estimated at $[illegible].

At 12:30 the fire is still raging, but it is believed all danger is past. The loss, as near as can be estimated to-night, is as follows: Abel Smith & Co., $60,000, insurance $31,000; Robinson, Rea & Co., $[illegible], insurance $[illegible].

LARGE QUANTITY OF OIL DESTROYED.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Sept. 25.—A tank containing between 5000 and 6000 barrels of oil took fire this afternoon at the works of the Standard Oil company. The fire department prevented the spread of the flames to property beyond the tank, and a greater portion of the oil was saved by being pumped out from the bottom. Three employes were severely burned about the legs by being caught by the rapidly flowing and blazing oil that escaped from the burning tank.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25.—The elopement mania has spread to this coast. On Tuesday evening Kittie Graham, 14-year-old daughter of John Graham, a commission merchant, eloped with Harry F. Sanford, a married man, aged 30. A marriage, but which Sanford to-day says was only a mock marriage, was performed the day following the elopement. Graham succeeded in finding out where his daughter was staying, and she recounted to him all the circumstances. The father afterward had Sanford arrested on a charge of bigamy. It is considered doubtful if the charge of bigamy can be sustained, as no legal marriage took place. Search is being made for the man who officiated at the ceremony.

The Oregonian.

FRIDAY MORNING, SEPTEMBER 26, 1884.

THE NORTHERN PACIFIC REPORT.

The summary of the report of President Harris of the Northern Pacific, to the stockholders of that company, as telegraphed here, was so meager and so jumbled as to be of little actual value as a source of information concerning the affairs of the corporation. From the full report, now received by mail, we collate some of the more important facts, in the hope of making the statement more intelligible than that hitherto published.

Earnings of the company for the year ended June 30, 1884, were $12,608,575 58. Operating expenses and taxes amounted to $7,177,754 74, and fixed charges, including interest and rentals, were $4,449,035 12. The aggregate of operating expenses and fixed charges was $11,626,789 86. Deduction of this sum from gross earnings leaves a surplus for the year of $1,055,656 17.

In this statement the operations of the land department are not included. The number of acres of land sold during the year was 178,116, for the sum of $2,184,041 69. Town lots, to the value of $97,851, were also sold. Cash receipts of the land department for the year were $715,224 89, and preferred stock to the amount of $1,725,570 was received in exchange for lands. Total expenses of the land department for the year were $182,193 76. The approximate number of acres of land for which the company is now entitled, or claims to be entitled to receive patents by reason of constructed road—including lands already patented—is 41,600,016, of which only 5,118,382 acres have been sold since the grant was made. Only about one-eighth of the grant has therefore been sold. The president says: "By a liberal policy in the management of its grant the company may look for a more rapid development than has attended any similar enterprise in this country." The comment might be added that such liberal policy, even should it be pursued to the extent of giving the lands away to actual settlers, would be just the thing to secure a population along the line and make business for the road. There is still due the company, in the form of deferred payments on lands sold, the sum of $8,656,415.

The present bonded debt of the company is $66,276,221 20. Interest paid on bonds during the year was $4,525,038 28. It is probable that the bonded debt will yet be considerably increased, especially if work shall be pushed on the Cascade division. The permanent debt of the company may be set down, probably, at about $70,000,000.

The expenses of the opening celebration in September, 1883, were $179,281 27. There has been expended by the Northern Pacific terminal company for lands on both sides of the Willamette river at Portland and for improvements thereon, a total of $2,226,237 11. No estimate of the amount required for completion of the Cascade division is presented. It is merely stated that the part of the mountain division remaining after existing contracts are fulfilled will be 74½ miles in length; that the elevation of the tunnel above the sea-level will be 2855 feet; that the summit of the pass is 3993 feet above the sea; that the mountain is supposed to be hard basaltic rock, and that construction of the tunnel may require from two to three years.

According to the September statement of the agricultural bureau, the estimated yield of wheat is 500,000,000 bushels, of oats the same, and of corn 1,800,000,000. This enormous yield has had its effect upon prices, both here and in Europe, and the producers may as well make up their minds that low prices will continue to prevail, and thus not embarrass the market and lose the legitimate benefit of this abundance by keeping back for better prices. The New York Commercial Bulletin very properly calls it folly to say that the world is raising more wheat than it needs, and adds that "there can be no overproduction of food until every industrious worker in civilized countries can have three good meals every day. We have a vast quantity of corn, it is true. But so long as thousands in our cities, and millions in Europe, have to live without meat, there can be no overproduction of food for cattle and hogs." That is true. Cheap food is one of the first considerations in the problem of comfort and prosperity. Good and nutritious food is as certain a missionary for civilizing and elevating the race as are school houses and churches. A well-fed people are, as a rule, a moral and law-abiding people, and unless the bountiful provisions of providence miscarry, such a crop as the present will prove a national blessing.

The New York Herald, which keeps a constant "run" of the weather, says that on the Pacific coast, where usually the summer rains hardly suffice to wet the gauges, the rainfall for last June was at some points greater than ever known. At one period it was relatively cold in the torrid region of the Gulf of Mexico, and most unduly warm in the frigid northwest. Comparatively unfruitful in the grand tornadoes, it was rich in local rainstorms, though in the southwest it was a droughty season. Midsummer was characterized by "cold waves" surging down from the eastern Rocky mountain slopes; and when the season, astronomically speaking, had closed, its powerful reserve force was displayed in the recent glowing "warm waves" extending from the great plain to the Atlantic.

A federal official of this city, who has received from George William Curtis, on behalf of the committee on civil service reform, a warning not to contribute to any campaign fund, under the pains and penalties of prosecution therefor, has answered thus: "As a republican I feel that I ought to do all I can to sustain my party, for we are 'confronted by the democratic party, which is very hungry, and, as you may believe, very thirsty;' it is 'the party that fell from power as a conspiracy against liberty, and now is trying to sneak back into power as a conspiracy for spoils.'" This answer has been mailed to Mr. Curtis himself.

The dearth of national issues or the inability of the people to appreciate their importance is shown in the opposition to a Universalist minister, as candidate for congress in New Hampshire, because of some strong expressions in his sermons against the Roman Catholics. The republican candidate for governor of Connecticut is also objected to by the Jews because he once said in court, nearly thirty years ago, "Your honor, will you not take the evidence given by eleven Americans in preference to that given by four Jews?" The Jews of New Haven call upon him to apologize.

English farmers are compelled to sell their wheat for one dollar a bushel, and this price involves a loss, according to the English papers, of 30 per cent. on the outlay. At present prices in Chicago mixed cargoes could be purchased and laid down in Liverpool at prices 10 to 15 per cent. below the price of English wheat. "English farmers are panic-stricken," we are told, and they will cultivate less another year, and this will increase the demand for American wheat.

Parsimony is said to be the most esteemed political virtue among the public men of North Carolina. Nathaniel Mason, who served thirty-seven years in the national house and senate from that state, is said never to have voted for an appropriation bill; and Dr. Yorke, who is now the republican and independent candidate for governor there, boasts that in all his legislative experience in the state and in congress he has never voted for such a bill.

Governor Cleveland, the New York Herald says, is not likely to take the stump. Of course he is not. The poverty of his intellectual resources will not permit it. He is merely a gross, heavy man, below mediocrity in intellect, dull and uninteresting in character, and conspicuous chiefly for animalism. He will not take the stump to draw attention to the smallness of his mental caliber.

Dr. Swing, the noted independent preacher of Chicago, says the vanity of women is innocent compared to that of men. And he adds that embezzlers steal chiefly to gratify their vanity.

ORAL INSTRUCTION IN GRAMMAR.

The Iowa Teacher suggests that teachers take walks with pupils, mingle with them in their diversions, invite their confidence. This is sound advice and so far as practicable should be followed. The personal influence of the teacher is for many pupils more valuable than direct instruction. There is one form of useful instruction which is often neglected for the reason, perhaps that it is a little outside the regular routine. We refer to training in the habit of correct speech. One of the objects of studying grammar is to acquire the art of speaking the English language correctly, but if the instruction is confined to hearing recitations from the text book, and the parsing of sentences, it is apt to be very fruitless for that purpose, and hence grammar is esteemed a hard and uninteresting study. Grammar should be taught orally and in connection with all other studies. It should be taught first by example. Teachers should be exceedingly careful not to use bad grammar in their conversation with pupils, and be just as careful not to allow their pupils to use bad grammar. Instruction in grammar should begin with the first efforts at speech. In other words children should be taught to speak correctly from the first. This requires much care and constant watching, and for several years the seclusion of children, as much as possible, from the society of uneducated persons, all of which is impossible for the majority of them. Where such care and seclusion are possible and exercised the result is most gratifying. A lady in giving the result of her experience in such instruction says that her children "spoke so correctly that people wondered how it could be possible for children so to speak who knew not even the alphabet." The only real trouble she had was with one who unfortunately possessed a great amount of "male bias." At four years of age the little fellow would urge that "we said it in quite another way"—the other way being always a very objectionable one.

A girl who had just gained her certificate of graduation was once asked whether choice of speech had been commented upon at school. Looking amused, she said: "Of course not; they don't take no notice of that." When one thinks of the time it takes a parent to watch the words from her children the huge task it would be to a teacher of large classes becomes apparent. But without such watching of children who have secured no instruction in grammar at home, the study of grammar at school is of little use. As a matter of intellectual discipline oral instruction in grammar is of the greatest value. Exactness of knowledge is equivalent to an increase of knowledge. The scholar knows more about the subject which has been exactly learned and correctly communicated to others. The habit of correct speech is for many purposes of life far from being indispensable, but it is indispensable in education. Without it no education is complete either as the result of a course of instruction, or as a preparation for the duties of life. The pupil ought not to be permitted to give an ungrammatical answer to a question in any branch of study.

It is said that the persons who want to make the electric light contract with the city, to last fifteen years, are claiming confidently that their proposition will be accepted by the common council. But THE OREGONIAN will not believe that that body will be so forgetful of its duty to the city as seriously to entertain this colossal job. There is everything to be said against it, nothing whatever for it. Authorize the number of electric lights at the cost proposed, and three times as many must then be provided to distribute favors impartially, and even then gas must be used in many places. This contract would start the city out on an experiment of jobbery in street lighting, the end of which no man can foretell. If there is any danger of its enactment, public opinion ought to manifest itself on the subject in advance, and in an unmistakable way.

Mr. Randall, who has been renominated for congress in Philadelphia, has been for more than twenty years almost as prominent a representative of protection as "Pig-iron" Kelley. He is one of the authorities on that subject. And yet in accepting his nomination he denied the right to collect one cent above the amount necessary for running the government, and said that all surplus above that is being squandered for unknown purposes, which is contrary to the letter and spirit of the constitution. As a remedy for this he recommended that a tax be imposed on foreign goods so that it will protect, and not by competition, lower the wages of American workmen. This, as was shown by THE OREGONIAN a few days ago, is the doctrine of the republican party as set forth in the platform.

There is a prospect, strange as it seems, that the republicans may gain a part of the electoral vote of Missouri. The democratic candidate for governor is very offensive to the "Union" sentiment. The republicans and greenbackers have "fused" and put up a ticket which will undoubtedly get a heavy vote, and, indeed, some sanguine persons think it may possibly be elected. In the last four elections the democratic majority over the republicans and greenbacks has been very small, and as the prohibitionists are largely democrats, the St. John vote, though likely to be small, will tell in favor of the coalitionists.

A committee of the Grand Army in Kansas arranged for a state reunion, and were moving along pleasantly until the railroads charged one and a half cents a mile for transportation, while visitors to a fair had just been carried for one cent. The committee then gave notice that the whole enterprise was abandoned, and at the same time expressed very positive views on the subject of anti-monopoly. The railroads ought not to discriminate against old veterans.

Lord Coleridge declines to write a book about America. He cannot "knock off a dissertation on a great country of infinitely complicated elements and endless variety of social aspects in half an hour." Unless he could give at least an hour to the subject, he is wise in declining to write a book.

The New York Times, though bitterly opposing Blaine, says his late letter about his marriage to William Walter Phelps "should close all lips upon a subject which has been introduced in this campaign only where manliness was forgotten."

The London Times has an editorial eleven columns long upon the work of the last session of parliament.

DEMANDS RIVER POLICE.

PORTLAND, Sept. 25.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

"Why are there no river police here to overhaul the small boats which hover about our wharves, stealing anything they can carry away? Attention to these boats and some inquiry about the occupants of the scows on the east bank of the Willamette and elsewhere, and what occupations these persons have, might give further protection to Portland's river front in these days of incendiarism and rid the Willamette of prowling thieves. A. R. S.

The Best he Could Do.

"Wasn't Charley Green up to your house last night?" asked one young lady of another, during the hottest of the hot weather.

"Yes."

"How pleasant that was. I think he is just too nice for any use."

"Well, I don't," was the snappy reply.

"Why not?"

"Oh, because he's no good."

"What's the matter with him?"

"Why, don't you think, after he had been there about half an hour, he asked Fannie and me to take a stroll with him, and of course we thought it meant ice cream, for it was a lovely ice cream night, and we were just boiling, and we went out only too quick."

"And didn't you get it?"

"Get it? No. He walked us six or eight squares, and then said it would be so much fun to get weighed, and he took us into a grocery store and we got weighed, and that's all we did get. Now, what do you think of that kind of a man?"—Merchant Traveler.

What is beauty's chiefest charm—

Flowing tresses, form of grace?
No; fine teeth these charms eclipse,

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST.

WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

The present force of men now at work on the Cedar river division is 550. Wa Chung has of that number 200, 50 of whom are white men.

The fair weather of the past few weeks has enabled the farmers of La Conner and vicinity to make good headway in gathering their crops. The yield of oats this year is very large.

An Ellensburg paper says: Steps have been taken to have the Wenatchie mail line extended to Okanagan City. A petition has been forwarded for that purpose, and no doubt the prayer will be granted.

The frost has killed the corn and other field crops in this locality, says the Kittitas Localizer. Four or five days ago we noticed that the bean, cucumber and squash vines were green and fresh as in August in Horse canyon.

A gentleman who has recently been in the Yakima country says there are about 200 Mormons engaged in grading on the Cascade branch; that they get their oats, potatoes, beans, bacon, groceries, clothing and supplies generally from Salt Lake. The Walla Walla Union is responsible for this statement.

Governor Squires has appointed Mrs. S. C. Wingard, Mrs. A. H. Reynolds and Mrs. Alex Reed of Walla Walla delegates to the eleventh national conference of charities and corrections, to be held at St. Louis, October 13 next. The appointments are intended to be confined to those who have been active in penal, reformatory, charitable and philanthropic work.

Walla Walla Journal: Corporal George Foster, acting first sergeant Company E, Second infantry, committed suicide Tuesday while under guard, en route to Fort Cœur d'Alene. He had been away from the command for some time and was under arrest and being escorted back to the fort for court martial and trial. He seemed to dread the consequences, and shot himself through the head with a revolver.

The democratic convention of Kitsap county has made the following nominations: Probate judge, L. M. Barton; county commissioners, Mrs. Ames and Philip Wist; auditor, H. McCallum; treasurer, P. J. Primrose; sheriff, T. Ross; coroner, Mr. Nolan; school superintendent, Miss L. M. Ordway; surveyor, Benjamin Waterman; wreckmaster, James Griffiths. The convention voted not to endorse the nomination of Mr. Amasa Miller for joint representative for King and Kitsap counties, and that the King county democrats be so notified.

Seattle paper: A gentleman just down from Snoqualmie prairie reports that pickers are very scarce. At the Snoqualmie hop farm there are about 200 pickers, where 400 are necessary to do the work. Mr. Bush, in Squak valley, has 50 pickers, nearly all white men, boys and girls. He pays them $1 25 per box and dries 50 boxes every thirty hours. The yield is about 10 boxes, or one and a half tons to the acre. A great many emigrants are still crossing the Snoqualmie wagon road, who report the road as being in bad condition. Many men returning from the Cœur d'Alene country find employment on the hop farms.

WESTERN OREGON.

Yamhill Reporter: There is very little grain standing out in this section compared to the country bordering the railroad line between here and Portland. In many places whole fields are standing out in shock and bid fair for proving a total loss.

IDAHO.

Lewiston correspondent under date of September 22: "The town is full of people, who are attracted in to hear the trial of Henry Bernard for the killing of a man named Enright. The shooting of Enright occurred at Eagle City, I. T. Bernard was brought to this place for trial, as it was claimed that he would not receive a fair trial in Eagle, where the murdered man's friends reside. The trial began Friday morning and has continued up to this date. It will probably be concluded to-morrow, as the evidence is all in.

IN PORTLAND!

THE CELEBRATED SPECIALIST,

Dr. Mintie.

Of San Francisco,

Is in Portland, and will remain for a week or ten days. Dr. Mintie is well known over the Pacific Coast as the FOREMOST SPECIALIST of the age. He is permanently located in San Francisco, where for years the success of his practice has been a wonder to all, making cures in many cases pronounced incurable by others. His specialty includes the following

Nervous, Private and Chronic Diseases,

Such as Lost Manhood, Nervous and Physical Debility, Exhausted Vitality, Seminal Weakness, Spermatorrhœa, Prostatorrhœa, Impotency, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Syphilis, Diseases of the Kidneys, Liver, Lungs, Heart and Stomach, Premature Decline in Man, and Female Weakness in Women, and all Functional Derangements that result from youthful follies or excess in later years.

Microscopic Examination and Chemical Analysis

Of the urine made in all cases where treatment is taken, so that whatever the complications may be, the microscope or chemical re-agents in analyzing the urine surely discovers them.

CURES GUARANTEED.

The Doctor has for many years had published a standing offer that he would forfeit

Five Hundred Dollars

For a case of these troubles he undertakes and fails to cure.

DR. MINTIE is the sole proprietor of the

GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY

Sir Astley Cooper's

VITAL

RESTORATIVE!

A supply of which he has with him, and which he will be glad to furnish at regular rates. Price $1 50 per bottle. Four times the quantity, $5.

FEMALE WEAKESS.

DR. MINTIE'S peculiar treatment of Prolapsus Uteri (falling of the womb), Leucorrhea (whites), and all kindred female troubles, symptoms of which are backache, burning pain on top of the head, feeling of debility, general weakness, lassitude, low spirits, feeling of languor and nervousness, is the most sensible, radical, successful and legitimate known to medical science. No humiliating personal examination necessary, and the disgusting speculum practice, so prevalent in the treatment of these diseases, is entirely done away with, as not only being of no benefit, but positively injurious. This fact has been demonstrated in thousands of cases in San Francisco and surrounding country, which have been permanently cured by DR. MINTIE, after the old speculum plan had failed.

Consultation Free.

It will cost you nothing to consult the Doctor, and if your case is curable he will frankly tell you, and if not curable, he will not undertake it.

Thorough examination and advice, including microscopic examination and chemical analysis of urine, $5.

Call on, or address, DR. MINTIE, office N. E. corner First and Main sts., rooms 1 and 2, up stairs. Office hours 9 to 3 daily; evenings 6 to 8. Only one call necessary; balance of treatment until cured conducted from his office in San Francisco, California. 25d10

WILBOR'S COMPOUND OF

PURE COD LIVER OIL AND LIME.

Wilbor's Cod Liver Oil and Lime.—Persons who have been taking cod liver oil will be pleased to learn that Dr. Wilbor has succeeded, from directions of several professional gentlemen, in combining the pure oil and lime in such a manner that it is pleasant to the taste, and its effects in lung complaints are truly wonderful. Very many persons whose cases were pronounced hopeless, and who had taken the clear oil for a long time without marked effect, have been entirely cured by using this preparation. Be sure and get the genuine. Manufactured only by A. B. WILBOR, Chemist, Boston. Sold by all druggists.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

NEW RAILROAD DEEDS.—The new forms of deeds for lands sold by the Northern Pacific railroad have been received at the office of the general land agent in this city. It is a [illegible] warranty deed without any reservations whatever. However, should the tracts [illegible] main line or branches, a deed will be given [illegible] a right of way reservation of 100 feet for the main line and [illegible] for any other branch or railroad [illegible] which or part, by the Northern Pacific. By its charter the Northern Pacific railroad company has a right of way of 400 feet over all lands which belonged to the public domain at the time of the passage of the granting act, namely July 2, 1864, and the government grants to all other railroads a free right of way of 200 feet in width over the public lands. It seems only reasonable, therefore, that the Northern Pacific should reserve to itself the same rights and privileges over its own lands which the government has granted over the public lands. It is understood that the present policy of the government is not to sell any of its lands containing coal, but to lease the mining rights upon royalty. All applications for coal leases are passed upon by the board of directors on reports made by the general land agent and land commissioner.

OLD COACHING DAYS.—In the gas company's office hangs a relic of ante-railroad days in Oregon, in the shape of an advertisement of the Oregon and California Stage Company. R. G. Whitehouse, who was agent for the line, says that the fares on one trip of the coach amounted to $800, which was the largest way-bill he ever made. The cost of a passage was $50 and only nine could ride inside. Way passengers were hung around the outside and piled on top. Steamers in those days made trips only twice a month, and were nearly a week on the way. If a person was in a hurry he went overland, a coach leaving here every morning. We travel faster now but people don't seem to live any longer, or make money faster, or enjoy life any better than they did in the old coaching and slow steamer days.

FINE GRAPES GROWN NEAR PORTLAND.—The market is now well supplied with Oregon grapes of most excellent quality from Simon's vineyard, near East Portland. They are of fine flavor and command a better price than the California grapes. It is not to be inferred that [illegible] grapes are not grown in California, but they are not sent here, as they will not stand transportation. A Portuguese who first went [illegible] progress of grape culture in this state for six or [illegible] years, [illegible] the [illegible] grape [illegible] cased with [illegible] irrigation [illegible] those raised here it is necessary to irrigate. The success of Mr. Simon [illegible] will [illegible] in [illegible] plant vines [illegible] neighborhood.

DEEP SEA FISHING.—[illegible] that the experiment of the Deep Sea Fishing Company of Astoria has proved a success, as announced in our state dispatches this morning, will be good news to all lovers of fish. Portland has never had a fish market worthy of the name, the supply of [illegible] fish [illegible] except salmon [illegible] [illegible] and more expensive than [illegible]. Fish forms a [illegible] healthful and [illegible] change from [illegible] of the [illegible], but [illegible] dispatch [illegible] quantities [illegible] plentiful in Portland markets [illegible] expensive as beef and other meats. The arrival of the first lot of fish from the company will be a matter of [illegible] to housekeepers.

LITERARY CHINAMAN DEAD.—A Chinaman named Sam Kat, who has been employed in the warehouse of McCracken & Co., for the past sixteen years died a few days since. He was a faithful servant and during his long service was never absent from his work except when sick. He was of a literary turn of mind and employed his leisure in studying the classics of his native land. He had collected quite a library which, according to Chinese custom, was burned at his grave with his other personal effects. It is a good thing that this fashion of burning one's library does not obtain among Christian people.

PUT THE BOTTLE TO A RED MAN'S LIPS.—George Gordon, who may be a relative, distantly, of Chinese Gordon now holding the fort at Khartoum, was brought down from Corvallis by Deputy U. S. Marshal Pygall, charged with selling liquor to an Indian. He makes no protestations of innocence, but as court is not in session he cannot make a plea of guilty, and, in default of bail, will have to sojourn in the county jail till Judge Deady returns from "down by the sea." Then he will probably be fined, and admonished not again to put the bottle to his neighbor's lips, even if the latter is an Indian.

FOR CHINA.—The Alice Besse has taken on the greater part of her cargo of lumber and will drop down to Oak Point in a day or two to complete it. She will carry away about thirty Chinese passengers, for whom accommodations have been prepared on the upper deck. They pay $2[illegible] 50 for tickets, and will be much more comfortable than when crowded in large numbers between decks. The Coloma, also on the berth for Hong Kong will not sail till about a month yet. She will carry 300 passengers between decks. Like birds of passage, the Chinese have a tendency to homeward fly at this season.

APPLES FROM SPOKANE.—The Northern Pacific land department has received from Jesse Barker and J. B. Schrum, residing about twelve miles east of Spokane Falls, on the gravelly plain, a remarkably fine assortment of winter apples, such as will compare favorably with anything of the kind produced in Oregon. It has been said by many that the Spokane gravel prairie was not productive. The quality of these apples show that such assertion is without foundation and if the gravel land can produce such fruit, it speaks well, not only of the soil, but of the farmers who have had the grit to try the experiment.

NO MORE DOUBLING UP IN POSTOFFICE BOX.—Commencing on the 1st of October, the law in regard to more than one firm or family using the same letter box, will be rigidly enforced at the postoffice in this city. Heretofore it has been impossible to enforce it, owing to a scarcity of boxes, but a large number having been repaired the supply is more ample. The attention of box-holders is called to the law, which reads as follows: "A person renting a postoffice box is entitled to have the letters of his family put into it. Each box must be restricted to the use of one family, firm or corporation."

FOR ALASKA.—The Ancon will sail from this port for Alaska next Monday, the 29th inst. Freight will be received this morning at steamship dock. About 50,000 feet of lumber awaiting shipment was left by the last steamer, and this will be taken by the Ancon. As she has capacity for all the freight that will probably offer, it will be well for shippers to get their stuff off this month. It was for the purpose of cleaning up all offerings that the larger ship was ordered north on this trip. Hereafter, and during the winter, the Idaho will run.

KEPT ON CELEBRATING.—Some of the young men from the country who came down to see the great procession put in the remainder of the night in endeavoring to impart a vermillion hue to the city. Early yesterday morning four of them called at the postoffice and banged away at the delivery window till a clerk came to see what was wanted. They desired return tickets to —— [It won't do to "give the boys away"]. When informed that the postoffice did not issue railroad tickets, they wandered off in search of the railroad depot.

MISSED A SALUTE.—It having been announced that the route of the procession on Wednesday evening would be down Harrison street from Sixth to First, the pupils of the Harrison street school and their friends to the number of 300 gathered at the school building, provided with roman candles and other fireworks for the purpose of seeing and greeting the procession. By some blunder the procession did not pass the school building, and the party collected there were disappointed and the procession missed a fine salute.

BASEBALL GAME SUNDAY.—A game has been arranged between the Stars of this city and the Fourteenth regiment club of Vancouver barracks, to take place at the city grounds in Vancouver next Sunday afternoon. The soldiers have two fine pitchers and two catchers, and play very strong game. An excursion will be given by the Stars, weather permitting, the boat leaving here about 10:30 A. M. Exact time and place will be published to-morrow.

POULTRY STOLEN.—Some wholesale poultry thief visited the chicken house of Mrs. Sherlock, corner of B and Twenty-first streets, Wednesday night, and made a clean sweep of all the ducks and chickens. The last large operator in this line was a Chinaman, who was sent to Salem for seven years not long since. It seems strange that a whole barn of poultry can be carried off without the owner being alarmed or the thief being seen by anyone.

SUIT FOR INSURANCE.—Suit was commenced in the United States circuit court yesterday by W. E. Newhouse against the Guardian fire and life insurance company to recover $1801, insurance on machinery in the foundry burned some time since at the foot of Oak street. The machinery belonged to A. E. Williams, who assigned his insurance policy to Newhouse. For some reason the insurance has not been paid, and hence the suit.

POLICE COURT.—The vags whose cases were taken under advisement by Judge Moreland on Wednesday came up yesterday to hear their fate. Charles McLaughlin claimed that he had worked part of three days since he was discharged from jail, a month ago. Judge Moreland [illegible] supposed that the character and [illegible] of the [illegible] were well known to the police. He was so [illegible] that there was no work [illegible] could [illegible]. Her [illegible] remarked that he was never out after [illegible]. It is what is the matter [illegible] the [illegible] for such fellows as you and Bacon who are [illegible] David and Jonathan [illegible], but differ in one respect—your lives are not altogether lovely. In order that you may not be separated, I will send you down with Bacon for forty days." Henry Hamilton, a wild unkempt looking fellow, who was hard of hearing, was sent below for twenty days. Sinclair who worked two hours per day and roamed the streets all night, was fined $25 and John Love received the same sentence. William McMahon was fined $40 and Frank Wright $25. Four fellows, including the son of "Blanket" Kelly, were discharged and warned to go to work or go away. John Gray and Maurice Jones, arrested by Policeman Brennan for being out for a ramble after midnight, were each fined $10. It is safe to say that there will be fewer vags on the streets after midnight for some weeks to come.

YESTERDAY'S RACES.—At City View park yesterday there were two trotting races. For the first, best two in three, there were three entries: Buccaneer, Lucy Weaver and Chance. The race was won by Buccaneer, Chance being distanced in the first heat; best time 2:42. For the second race, best three in five, the entries were Florence E., Kelly and Nellie Kaylor. The first heat was won by Nellie Kaylor in 2:37½. The next two heats were won by Florence E. in 2:36 and 2:3[illegible]. It being so late the conclusion of the race was postponed to Saturday at 1 P. M. The crowd in attendance came down to the river at 6 o'clock, but owing to an accident to the pump of the boat which was to bring them home they had to wait for her till 7:30. It was rather cold for comfort, so some of the boys swam the river and got a drink on this side, and the remainder built a big bonfire and camped by it. There's lots of fun in going to the races at City View, but some people kick themselves [illegible] to death for going.

A STRANGE FREAK.—[illegible] Westerman [illegible] brought here [illegible] for burial. After the [illegible] it was [illegible] in the [illegible] from the [illegible] mother who lives at [illegible] [illegible] Westerman was [illegible] of Mr. Alex. M[illegible] [illegible] Alexander [illegible] was found in his pocket [illegible] superintendent of construction [illegible] to pay his funeral expenses [illegible] of two months' salary due him [illegible] [illegible] $100 of his [illegible].

MONSTROUS STEER.—[illegible] with [illegible] for [illegible] has been [illegible] to this office by [illegible] of East Portland. The animal is owned by O. I. [illegible] of Miller's station, Linn county, and is 7 years old. She is [illegible] and [illegible] high, weighs [illegible] 400 pounds, and is the [illegible] of two [illegible], one [illegible] is slightly [illegible], with [illegible] still lighter, showing different color from the body. The animal is remarkably thick and heavy, and it is no exaggeration to say that this remarkable growth is seven feet long. She [illegible] to [illegible] when the animal is at work.

NEXT DRAMATIC ATTRACTION.—Nothing is booked at the New Market after this week until October 13, when George C. Miln will open for a week in tragedy. Three years ago Mr. Miln was minister of the largest Unitarian church in Chicago, and was the most popular divine in the city. Differences upon questions relative to forms of worship arose between himself and his congregation, to whom he was deeply attached, and he withdrew. Rather than go to any other congregation he chose the stage, and his success has been remarkable. He will bring a company specially selected for the legitimate drama.

FURTHER PREPARATIONS.—Workmen are engaged, under the supervision of Frank T. Dodge, superintendent of the river division of the O. R. & N. Co., in tearing down and removing the elevated roadway between the rear of the stores and the company's warehouse, between Ash and Pine streets. This is done to give more convenient access for firemen in case their services should be needed in that vicinity. There is a general clearing up of loose lumber [illegible] docks and [illegible] and private watchmen [illegible] along the city front.

WATER SUPPLY FOR FIRES.—Residents of the north end having complained of the limited number of fire cisterns in that part of the city and the consequent danger of an inadequate supply of water in case of a large fire, Chief Morgan has been granted permission by the gas company to place fire engines when necessary at the gasholder corner of Sixth and E streets. By placing the suction hose of an engine in the pit alongside of this holder a practically inexhaustible supply of water can be had. The residents in that vicinity can be at ease as regards water supply for fire purposes.

VERDICT AGAINST THE EXPRESS COMPANY.—The case of Nelson Bennett, who sued the Northern Pacific express company for the value of a package of currency carried by the company from this city to Ainsworth and stolen from the agent's safe at that place, went to the jury in the state circuit court yesterday. After less than an hour's deliberation they returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for the full amount claimed, viz: $18,784 27, and interest at eight per cent. from Jan. 31, 1884, $[illegible]—total of $19,919 7[illegible].

NEW MANAGER AT THE NEW MARKET.—Owing to ill health, Charles W. Cornelius will retire from the management of the New Market theater on the 1st proximo. Mr. Cornelius has made many friends during his connection with the theater who will regret to see him leave. He will be succeeded by John P. Howe, manager of the Standard theater, Seattle. There isn't a more energetic theatrical man on the coast than Mr. Howe, and he ought to make a success out of the venture.

GOT NINE YEARS.—Henry Chatwin, the burglar who was shot by Dr. Pilkington early on the morning of October 1, having entered a plea of guilty, came up for sentence in the state circuit court yesterday morning. Judge Smith sentenced him to nine years in the penitentiary. The burglar has almost recovered from his wounds and feels little pain from them. He received the sentence with good grace.

W. C. T. U. ANNIVERSARY.—Attention is called to the programme of the anniversary exercises of the W. C. T. U., published in the advertising columns, which will be an exhibit of their work for the last year. All interested in this important work of reform are urged to be present. Some of the best musical professionals have kindly consented to contribute their services for the evening. There will be no charge for admission.

EFFICIENT OFFICERS.—City Attorney Dement is entitled to much credit for securing the conviction of twenty out of the twenty-four vags arrested. The police should have hauled in some of these fellows before. Judge Moreland seems to have risen to the occasion, and dealt out "days" with a liberality which astonished and disgusted the fiends and vags brought before him.

ADMINISTRATOR APPOINTED.—The only transaction worthy of notice in the various county offices yesterday, was the appointment of M. F. Murkey as administrator of the estate of John Troster, of New Haven, Connecticut, who died some time ago. He left personal property in this state valued at $4200. W. H. Wood, George Harold and A. W. Witherell were appointed appraisers.

PROBABLY NO LEASE.—Nothing has been heard lately through THE OREGONIAN's eastern dispatches concerning the lease by the Northern Pacific of the O. R. & N. property, and, so far as can be learned, no officer of the company here is advised of any definite action. The latest report is that all negotiations are off and that there is no likelihood of a lease during this fiscal year of the Northern Pacific.

LIKE A FAIR.

The display of millinery, cloaks and suits at Mozart's popular store on Morrison street is equal to a fair. Their store was crowded with people the whole day long. The exhibition is really one worth while to see. The most fashionable styles are shown in profusion, and one principal item about Mozart's goods is that they are far below the usual price for so fine articles. Ladies will do well to call at No. 70 Morrison street.

I HAVE used Ely's Cream Balm for hay fever, and experienced great relief. I cordially recommend it as the best of all the many remedies I have tried. T. B. Jenks, lawyer, Grand Rapids, Mich.

THE LATEST CHINESE MURDER.

Trial of Lee Sang for Killing Wong Bing Begun in the State Circuit Court

Yesterday afternoon the trial of Lee Sang, indicted for murder in the first degree, began in the state circuit court, District Attorney Caton, assisted by J. C. Moreland appearing for the state, and Henry McGinn for the defendant. The shooting occurred August [illegible] on Second street near Alder, in a gambling den, Wong Bing being the victim. The murderer ran to a [illegible] near the corner of Third and Morrison and in [illegible] hid. [illegible] the police by firing at them from his dark hiding place for nearly an hour, and was finally drowned out. The prisoner did not deny having shot Bing, but claimed that he acted in self defense, Bing having fired first.

The following jury was impaneled: R. M. Field, Joseph Hellering, Joseph Barstow, Joseph Burkhard, T. B. McKinstry, James Brand, C. A. Cole, Thomas Hawls, A. J. Kane, J. Bloom, Chas. W. Frush and Chas. A. Wheeler.

But one witness was examined before court closed for the day, F. F. Dawn of Salem, who testified that he heard the shot in the gambling room, and that there was only one shot.

A stenographic report of the testimony is being taken by George A. Brodie.

THE EAST SIDE.

Frank Lyre has received the contract for the casting for the new Masonic hall at Vancouver.

A. J. Hoyt has returned from a visit to his old home in Iowa, from which he had been absent twenty-seven years, and brings with him his mother and sister to reside here permanently.

A. Walker of the Oregon Iron Fence Works, has secured the contract to furnish 150 feet of wrought iron fence, to be placed around the residence of Dr. H. Gibson, Eighteenth street, Portland.

A hanging lamp in the sitting room of W. H. Welch's residence, corner of Ninth and G streets, caused considerable alarm last evening by the light communicating to the oil in the reservoir and causing a big blaze.

A fellow whose suspicious actions caused the marshal to arrest him yesterday for vagrancy, gave his name as Frank Carrigan to the recorder and was allowed to go on condition that he kept going till he got beyond the city limits.

The Woman's Foreign Mission Society of the Baptist church has been reorganized, with Mrs. C. H. Hobart as president, Mrs. A. F. Frost vice president, and Mrs. [illegible] secretary and treasurer. Regular meetings will be held on the first M[illegible] in each month.

Rev. Father P. Malone, who [illegible] has been afflicted with sickness for the past six or seven weeks, is reported improving. During his sickness Rev. Father Matiu [illegible] sisters' convent, Portland, [illegible] services in Sunday school [illegible].

[illegible] reported. During the absence of the family of Wm. [illegible] Wednesday the residence [illegible] entered and [illegible] taken from [illegible]. A shotgun and a pair of [illegible] taken from the house of a neighbor [illegible] not been learned.

A [illegible] named Worthen fell eighteen feet, from a [illegible] building on which he was working, at a [illegible] Wednesday [illegible] bruised and fractured [illegible] him [illegible]. The extent of his injuries will render him an invalid for a considerable length of time.

Considerable complaint is made because of the doors of the Mechanics' pavilion being kept closed till so late on last Wednesday evening, keeping a thousand or more people awaiting entrance on the streets several [illegible] when the doors were opened through being pushed back for life by the police on account of the doors opening outward.

THE STAGE.

CLOSING OF BARRETT'S ENGAGEMENT.—"Francesca da Rimini" was repeated last evening at the New Market. It was the second presentation of this great tragedy and it is the last time it will be produced in Portland, at least during the present engagement of Barrett. Notwithstanding Francesca da Rimini was rendered Tuesday evening the degree of public interest has not abated. In attestation of this assertion a casual glance at the interior of the theater last night was all that was needed. From pit to dome the building was packed to the utmost limits of its capacity. Even standing room was difficult to secure. Such a mass of humanity has not been witnessed at the theater for probably a year. The audience, both as to quantity and quality, was a compliment to the eminent tragedian and his company, and from a financial point of view, was satisfactory to the management. To accommodate the pressing demand for room the space usually occupied by the members of the orchestra was utilized. The musicians took a station behind the scenes on the stage and there between acts discoursed music. Seats were placed clear up to the stage and were filled by eager spectators.

The play, in all respects, was a repetition of Tuesday night. It was superbly presented and received with a measure of warmth and enthusiasm gratifying to the professional pride of Mr. Barrett and his excellent company. All the climax scenes were encored, and curtain calls insisted upon at the close of each act.

This evening Mr. Barrett will appear in a great dual performance: Shylock in "Merchant of Venice," and Garrick in the play of "David Garrick."

"Yorick's Love" will be repeated at the matinee to-morrow afternoon.

Saturday evening Mr. Barrett concludes his highly successful season in Portland. On his last appearance Shakspeare's great comedy of "Much Ado About Nothing" will be produced for the first time in this city.

BAKER CITY NOTES.

BAKER CITY, Sept. 23.

The residences of J. Black and S. L. Baer are about completed.

Considerable grain was injured by the rain, yet not so much as it was at first supposed.

The engineers in charge of the Snake river bridge say they will have it completed by October 1.

All the freight to and from Canyon City, Prairie City and John Day, in Grant county, is now shipped through this place.

A Blaine and Logan club has been organized here, with Judge L. O. Sterns as president, J. H. Mitchell secretary, and D. L. Moorman treasurer.

How Tammany Loves Cleveland.

First Tammanyite—"Oh! yes, I am for Cleveland, but I shall be kept so busy this fall that it will be impossible to find time to vote."

Second Tammanyite—"I am for Cleveland, too, but I have made arrangements to move and will lose my vote, of course."

Third Tammanyite—"Hur-(coughing and choking) rah for Cleveland! By the way, I am obliged to run over to Europe and am afraid I can't get back before election."—Philadelphia Call.

The Thankful Independents.

First Independent—"Well, I see the republicans have a strong hold on Maine as well as Vermont. Maine went 20,000."

Second Independent—"Yes, we have much to be thankful for."

"Thankful! Why, what about?"

"Because Ohio has not voted yet."—Philadelphia Call.

NOTES FROM EUGENE.

The Lane County Fair—Some of the Exhibits—News Notes.

EUGENE, Sept. 21.

Judge R. S. Bean and family returned yesterday from their summer vacation and a journey in Southern Oregon.

Hop picking is well advanced, and a few more days will complete the saving of the largest crop ever raised in Lane county.

The machinery and material for the publication of the Eugene City Register arrived to-day, and will be put up and in operation very soon.

The sad-eyed secretary of the [illegible] land and Hendricks club assures us "that if Cleveland is elected he will be inaugurated [illegible] blood will flow."

THE COUNTY FAIR.

The county fair opened to-day with a very large number of entries in all departments. Messrs. George Belshaw, M. Wilkins, Samuel Clifford and others make magnificent displays in wheat, other grains and grasses.

The conventional big squashes, potatoes and other vegetables are out in full force, displayed by some of our leading farmers, among which I note the names of Messrs. James Campbell, S. Clifford, O. R. Bean and [illegible] Perkins, and when entries are complete this department will be a "well grown" show.

Our home manufactures come in for their full share of attention. The Springfield and Eugene City mills each showing fine samples of flour and feed.

Messrs. Cherry & Day, in furniture, show some articles made from Oregon wood which would be a credit to them and the state in any exhibition.

Messrs. Skelton & Son make a good display of blankets, yarns and knit goods. This industry is worthy of higher consideration from our people than it has received in the past.

Messrs. J. M. Sloane and H. H. Page exhibit some of the finest carriage work ever made in the northwest, and Messrs. Nelson & Pratt some elegant articles of blacksmith work.

The Star bakery and Messrs. Swift, Combs & Co. present fine specimens of their skill, almost making one feel he could live by bread alone.

The floral hall contains a splendid array of house plants, from the homes of Mrs. A. S. Patterson, Mrs. F. B. Lucky, Mrs. J. B. Rinehart, Mrs. J. R. Bl[illegible]on, Mrs. [illegible] Lucky and others.

Mrs. J. B. Rinehart's case of specimen colors and [illegible] goods, surmounted by some elegant designs in scroll work, forms a unique and attractive combination.

Messrs. Osburn & Co., druggists, make a [illegible] display of [illegible].

Mr. [illegible] M. Horn exhibits guns, ammunition [illegible] well arranged [illegible].

The best collection of birds in the state is owned and exhibited by Mr. J. B. Rinehart. It contains [illegible] and [illegible] specimens of Oregon game birds.

The [illegible] department embraces the taxidermy of Messrs. [illegible] McClanahan, —— Wade, J. B. Rinehart, Messrs. Belle Spiller, Kate Parker and others. The specimens of photography [illegible] especially elegant. The crayon work of fine design and execution and the oil painting such as would do credit to the studios of some of the old masters.

The agricultural implement houses of Messrs. J. W. [illegible] and Smith & Cox make large displays of farm machinery, and the other departments [illegible] well attended [illegible]. This and [illegible] extend [illegible] notice. Many articles of merit have been passed, and only such as were especially deserving mentioned.

Your Friends Will Never Tell You

But perhaps somebody who isn't your friend, will, that your presence is rendered offensive by the foul fetid smell of your breath. Every word you utter, though it be the very echo of wisdom and poetry, disgusts your hearers, and your laugh is productive of anything but mirth to them. It is a duty you owe, not only to yourself, but to society, to remove this cause of offense. Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy will heal the diseased mucous membrane, will bring relief to yourself and others. Do not hesitate to try it.

Mark Antony's Remarks Over Casar

Friends, countrymen, and customers, lend
Me your ears, [illegible] of them on the half shell.
I come to bury Caesar, as he is politically dead.
The evil that men do lives after them;
In the [illegible] of progeny [illegible]
The valid [illegible] the old [illegible]
So let it be with the aforesaid
[illegible] the old [illegible] Caesar was ambitious.
* * * * * * *
If you have [illegible] prepare to disgorge at once
You all do know this ulster;
I remember the first time that Caesar put it on;
It was on a summer evening [illegible]
At the encampment in Oregon,
When the thermometer [illegible] in the [illegible]
But it was an ulster to be proud of.
It cost sixteen dollars at Kohn & Steinbach's,
The Leading Clothiers, [illegible] First street,
In the city of Portland.
Look! In this place ran Cassius' dagger thro'
Through his heart by Brutus stabbed;
And when he plucked his cursed steel away,
Good gracious how the blood of Caesar followed it.
I come not, friends, to steal away your trumps
Or your hard earned dollars with [illegible] on them
That you have earned by the sweat of your eyebrow.
I am no thief like the Brutus tribe,
If I have got the monopoly,
And those rascals who do such acts
Would steal a pup.
I come not here to bury Caesar,
I am no undertaker. Would that I were.
But I come here to tell the good people of Portland
That if they want good fitting clothes
For men and boys at low prices for cash,
The latest eastern styles and first class goods,
The undersigned house is the place to go for them.
And I Mark Antony cheerfully recommend
them.

COMMERCIAL.

THURSDAY, Sept. 25.

Overland receipts include 25 cs desiccated cocoanut, 6 pkgs confectionery, 184 pkgs tobacco, 2 cs cigars, 1 cs cigarettes, 27 bx soap, 10 cs 5 kgs syrup, 22 cs, 100 kgs drips, 150 cs lard, 50 cs canned corn, 5 tcs hams, 12 kgs nails.

PRODUCE RECEIPTS—Past 24 hours, 2980 ctls wheat, 1561 bbls flour, 440 ctls oats, 300 ctls bran, 315 ctls millstuff, 1650 lbs hides, 25 cs eggs, 228 bxs fruit, 18 pkgs butter. Also, 6445 ctls wheat, 150 bbls flour from the eastern section.

WHEAT—A steady movement is had that shows little change from last week. The first cargo of the season has cleared, and a second will soon be ready. The market has witnessed a fair amount of trading at steady prices, and shippers have mostly more than enough for spot requirements. Quotations all week have been $1 47 1-2@$1 for Walla Walla and $1 [illegible] for valley, and there is no word of more being paid. Holders have offered valley at $1 15, but this is certainly above the market, as there is not the least foundation for any advance. A firmer tone to the freight market, without an improvement abroad for wheat, precludes any advance upon quotations being paid here. At Walla Walla wheat is offered freely at the current prices of [illegible] per bushel, and some buying is done, yet for first needs shippers prefer the valley product. Abroad the market has ruled about the same as for some weeks, until at the close when holders are firmer in their demands. No advance has been established, but the American markets have [illegible] the shade higher on the strength of last advices. Chicago, New York and San Francisco all show a small rise. The local market promises to show a good trade, even though a large number of holders are unwilling to part with their product at present values. It is not probable that prices can be forced up without an improvement in the selling markets. Added to the present low prices is the fact that it is difficult to secure even a bid for cargoes here. With a better inquiry, if it comes, shippers can place cargoes and will operate more freely.

The aggregate supply of wheat in sight in the United States, exclusive of California and Oregon, and Canada, September 17th was [illegible] bushels, and that of corn 4,242,800 bushels, against, on the preceding weekly exhibit, an aggregate of 18,[illegible] bushels wheat and 4,491,000 bushels corn; and a year ago an aggregate of [illegible] bushels wheat, and 13,247,750 bushels corn.

FLOUR—Standards quoted steadily at $4 [illegible]; others $3 [illegible] 4 25. There is nothing just now on which to base the expectation of an early decline in standards, as most mills sell their grinding readily.

MILLSTUFFS—Supplies ample but not excessive. Jobbing rates are: Bran, $[illegible]; chop, $22 50; shorts, $[illegible]; middlings, $2[illegible]. Ground barley, $24@26.

OATS—For several days the market was quite bare, but liberal receipts near the close eased the market without affecting values. For good feed 35c is the ruling quotation. Growers are not inclined to hurry shipments, as was expected, and values may be maintained in consequence.

POTATOES—Common varieties bring 40@50c per cental and the market is freely supplied at this. Sweets sell at [illegible] cents.

ONIONS—Dealers pay one cent for choice and are jobbing out at 1 1-2c.

PROVISIONS—More Oregon [illegible] and receipts of eastern have [illegible]. Price cutting is resorted to and the range of quotations is lower. Eastern and Oregon choice bacon, 15c; eastern hams, 17@18c; best local hams, [illegible]; best shoulders, 11 1/2c. No keg lard and Oregon 5 and 10 pound pails now quoted 12 1/2@13c. Small eastern tins, 12 1/2c.

CHEESE—Best Oregon selling at 15c; poorer grades, 12@14c.

DRIED FRUIT—Quotations are: Boxes, [illegible]; sun dried, [illegible]; peaches, [illegible]; prunes, [illegible]; plums, [illegible]; pears not in stock; figs, [illegible]; raisins, $1 75@2 per whole box.

GREEN FRUIT—Market generally steady. Local kinds not so freely offered. Apples bring 40@60c, with about a probable advance; pears 40@50c for common and [illegible] for choice; prunes, [illegible]; tomatoes, [illegible]; peaches, $1 50. California importations sell freely at: Grapes, $1 75@2 25; peaches, $1 50, tomatoes, [illegible]; lemons, [illegible]; cantaloupes, $2 50.

TROPICAL FRUITS—Fair trade at: Lemons, $7@8; oranges, $[illegible]; bananas, $2 75; limes, $1 50.

VEGETABLES—Steady. Cabbage, [illegible]; root vegetables $1 [illegible] per sack.

BUTTER—Fancy keeps selling up to 30c; common kinds 20@25c; eastern 18@20c.

POULTRY—Chickens—$4 00@5 00 for old, $2 50@3 50 for young. Market has ruled weak [illegible] of large offerings, but has now a stronger tone. Ducks bring $6 00@7 00; geese, [illegible].

EGGS—Sold off to the [illegible] dozen.

HAY—Quoted at $9@12 00 [illegible] quality and [illegible].

HOPS—[illegible] Milwaukee and New York. The business [illegible] [illegible]

WOOL—An occasional lot is marketed here, but there is not the least appearance of competition and the sales were at 12@16c for a not strictly choice quality. The movement is steadily light from day to day, but aggregates well for the time of year. The usual quantity is sent out by steamer, while rail shipments are light. The eastern markets are the shade duller, yet losing nothing in prices, as the [illegible] activity gained almost nothing. The demand is [illegible] [illegible]

SALMON—The Kirkwood has completed [illegible] [illegible]. The Glenshee has not yet taken [illegible]. The market is without improvement, San Francisco continuing to quote $1 [illegible]. On river there is nothing being done. In the way of shipping foreign [illegible] remains to be sent. Rail shipments are very fair, and the inquiry from the Atlantic side is small.

HIDES, ETC.—Steady at 12@16c for dry and [illegible] for wet salted. Tallow dull at [illegible]. Furs and skins generally steady at: Dark beaver $[illegible]; valley summer deerskins [illegible], do winter do [illegible]; eastern Oregon summer do [illegible], do winter do [illegible]. The following [illegible] by the skin: Black bear [illegible], brown do, [illegible]; dark fisher [illegible], pale do [illegible], silver fox [illegible], cross do [illegible], red do [illegible], lynx [illegible], prime dark marten [illegible], dark mink [illegible], land otter $[illegible], wolf [illegible].

POLITICAL CONTEST IN IRELAND.

The Khedive of Egypt to be Warned—Russia also Enters a Protest—Cholera Increasing in Italy, Etc.

TORONTO, Ont., Sept. 25.—Three Pullman cars and the private car of Chief Engineer Hannaford, of the Grand Trunk express for Montreal and Boston, left the track near Pickering station last night, owing to a broken frog, and went over an embankment twenty-five feet high. At the time of the accident it was very dark, and the rain was pouring in torrents. The crash of the falling cars, screams of women, groans and shrieks of the wounded, all emanating from the intense darkness, were terrible to listen to. The horrors multiplied when Chief Engineer Hannaford's coach took fire. The flames burned fiercely, despite the pouring rain, and quickly communicated to the Pullman coach that came next. Large numbers of townspeople gathered and assisted in rescuing the passengers from the burning Pullman as rapidly as possible. The passengers collected together and a roll was called, when it was found that a dozen were injured, but none seriously. How all escaped is a mystery. One of the coaches was smashed into kindling wood. All were whirled over and over several times, yet many escaped absolutely unhurt, while most of the wounds were of a slight character. The injured were taken to Whitby, where medical aid was procured. Damage to the track and rolling stock is estimated at $100,000.

LABOR DEMONSTRATION TO BE HELD.

HAMILTON, Ont., Sept. 25.—A great labor demonstration and mass meeting will be held here October 1. Workingmen from all parts of the province will take part. Resolutions will be offered demanding the immediate stoppage of Chinese immigration, and the expulsion of all Chinamen who refuse to accept civilization and citizenship; and the immediate recall of emigrant agents in Europe or elsewhere, and the expenditure of money thus saved on public works, so as to give Canadians employment in their own country.

IRELAND.

POLITICS IN COUNTY MAYO.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—[Special.]—The Sun's cable special from London, of September 24, says: A curious political rebellion is now in progress in County Mayo, Ireland. The county is now represented in the house of commons by J. O'Connor Power and Rev. Isaac Nelson. Parnell, it is understood, desires the same men to contest the county again in the next general election, but a number of nationalists in Mayo object to Parnell's dictation and propose quite a different programme. These disaffected leaguers took advantage of a fair held to-day at Balla to hold a secret meeting and discuss the political situation. They decided that they could no longer submit to the autocratic sway of Parnell, but would exercise the right of independent judgment and put in nomination candidates of their own selection. Their choice fell upon Captain Boycott, recently the most execrated man in Ireland, and John William Nally. The growing popularity of Captain Boycott is one of the most curious facts of current Irish history. Moderate observers consider it a sign of waning influence of the Irish national league; loyal Parnellites ridicule the idea of any successful opposition being possible in Mayo, but the fact is that any serious defection in that county is rendered significant by the fact that in April, 1880, Mayo returned Parnell himself to parliament by a handsome majority.

FRANCE.

THE KHEDIVE TO BE WARNED.

PARIS, Sept. 25.—The Gaulois says: Baron de Courcel, French ambassador to Berlin, has informed Prime Minister Ferry that Germany, Austria and Russia have decided to warn the Khedive of Egypt that the stability of his throne will be endangered if he continues to endorse England's financial acts. In that case the powers might support the restoration of Khedive Ismail Pasha to the head of the Egyptian government.

LONDON, Sept. 25.—Advices from Burmah state that a sanguinary outbreak occurred in the jail at Mandalay. Several hundred convicts were killed.

A PROTEST ENTERED.

CAIRO, Sept. 25.—Diplomatic representatives of Germany, Austria, France and Russia called separately upon Nubar Pasha, Egyptian prime minister, to-day, and presented a note to him. In this the powers make formal protest against the action of the Egyptian government in diverting revenues set apart for the sinking fund to the general Egyptian treasury.

RAILROAD NOTES.

PACIFIC COAST ASSOCIATION FORMED.

CHICAGO, Sept. 25.—A meeting of representatives of railroad lines interested in business to far western points was held here to-day, for the purpose of forming a pool. It was decided to call it the Pacific Coast association, and that all business originating east of the Mississippi river, and destined to points in California, Oregon, Montana and British Columbia, should be included in the pool. Rates and percentages will be decided on at a future date.

N. P. R. R. DIRECTORS' MEETING.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—The Northern Pacific directors will not meet to-day, owing to the absence of several members of the board. The meeting will be held on Thursday next. Fred B. Nourse, of Boston, has been elected assistant secretary of the Oregon Railway & Navigation company, in place of Alfred B. Stearns, resigned.

CUTTING RATES.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 25.—It is alleged here to-day in local outside of railroad circles, that passenger rates to New York are being cut, and that tickets have been bought as low as fifteen dollars; but none of the railroad men will acknowledge it. Freight rates are also said to be unsteady, and that rebates and concessions are obtainable.

But few articles have reached such a world-wide reputation as ANGOSTURA BITTERS. For over fifty years they have been the acknowledged standard regulators of the digestive organs. Their success has incited imitations. Be sure you get the genuine article manufactured only by Dr. J. G. B. Siegert & Sons.

BANKERS UNITE.

An Effort to Break Down the System of Granting Overdrafts.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25.—[Special.]—The banks of this city, which have for years past waged an ineffectual warfare against the system of granting overdrafts, have at last combined against the evil in a manner which promises its overthrow at an early date. The first step in the recent movement was the adoption of the following agreement by the San Francisco clearing house:

"We, the associated banks of the San Francisco clearing house, hereby pledge ourselves, each to the other, that we will, in good faith, endeavor to effect a change in the matter of granting overdrafts to our respective customers, and will discourage the same with a view to the abolishment of standing current overdrafts, at an early date."

This is signed by the Bank of California, the Bank of British Columbia, the Bank of British North America, Belloc & Co., Donohoe, Kelly & Co., the First National Bank of San Francisco, the London and San Francisco Bank (limited), Sather & Co., the Anglo-Californian Bank (limited), Wells, Fargo & Co., the Nevada Bank of San Francisco, the London, Paris and American Bank, the Pacific Bank, Tallant & Co., Crocker, Woolworth & Co., and the Grangers' Bank of California.

PRESIDENT LOWE'S VIEWS.

F. F. Lowe, president of the clearing house, speaking of the matter to-day said: "After considering the matter for some weeks the bankers have finally agreed that a decisive movement is better than any half way proceeding and nearly all have signed an agreement to discontinue the practice of allowing overdrafts, as in vogue at present."

"Will you tell me something about the extent of the system and how it has operated?" asked the reporter.

"Certainly. As to its extent, there is not another city in the United States that it is carried on the way it is here. In fact, in no other city has the credit system been so recklessly conducted. Nearly all the larger banks have allowed heavy depositors of known reliability to overdraw their accounts from $1000 to $25,000 and even higher. The plan was inaugurated in Ralston's time, when the banks were striving hard for business, and the system has not been an easy one to discontinue. Merchants are always ready to flock to bank, where they can overdraw for the heaviest amounts, when money is tight. When one bank adopts this way of doing business the rest are obliged to follow, and the holding back of one of our larger banks at present has been the chief cause for the delay in making the agreement."

The effect of this new rule will be to make the conditions of credit in this city more severe, and this will doubtless be felt in Oregon, where many merchants, both in Oregon and in the interior, buy long-time bills. It is another move in the effort to introduce eastern business methods on this coast.

GENERAL BUTLER.

He Addresses a Large Gathering at a County Fair.

PLYMOUTH, N. H., Sept. 25.—The third day of the Grafton county fair was honored by the presence of General Butler. He was accompanied by Moody Merrill, a large stockholder in the association, who, in the absence of the president, introduced Butler to a large gathering. Butler apologized for hoarseness, and said he supposed his hearers were of mixed politics; very much so; therefore, his remarks would be somewhat mixed, hitting all alike. The democrats want to get in power, where they can be tempted, but they would do no better than the republicans. All we desire is for the producers to enjoy the fruits of their labors. If the government will give the laboring man a fair chance he would be satisfied. He did not leave the Chicago convention because he was not nominated, for his name was not presented; he did not let it go in because he did not wish to be bound. Had he desired it he would have been presented. Democratic free trade orators say the tariff makes you pay too much for everything. What is tariff? It is food. Ignorant democratic orators talk sometimes as if it was something to eat. [Applause.]

General Butler considered railroad rules, and said the legislatures are owned by the railroads and the remedy lies in sending men to the legislature who cannot be corrupted. The republican party had a grand record; the democratic party had a grand old record, under Jackson, but Jackson has been dead these forty years, and he left no children. But you must look out, and think and act for yourselves. A voice: "How would it do to vote for St. John?" The general replied: "If inclined to drink too much whisky you would better do it. [Applause.] If you do not think for yourselves it means revolution, and revolution means the ballot." General Butler was heartily cheered at the close of his speech.

A DISASTROUS RACE.

MINEOLA, L. I., Sept. 25.—At the Queens county fair grounds this afternoon, in the seventh running race, at the first turn of the track, the horse Little Mac fell and rolled twice over his rider, a colored boy named Jackson, seriously injuring him. At the second turn two other horses fell, and one had his neck broken. The race was won by Fred Gebhard's Little [illegible].

Blaine and Logan Reach the Batt

Ground of Ohio.

[illegible]AMMANY WILL KNIFE CLEVELAND

[illegible]ler Makes Another Characteristic Speech—Dem[illegible] crats Conceding Ohio to the Republican Column—Etc.

[illegible] Sept. 26.—Blaine did not rise th[illegible] morning until about 10. He breakfasted in h[illegible] room. After breakfast he received the [illegible] delegation, headed by Gov. Foster, which h[illegible] come to escort him on his way, and a smalle[illegible] one from Chautauqua county. He also receiv[illegible] many citizens of Buffalo, who called to p[illegible] their respects. He was loudly cheered as he le[illegible] the hotel at 12:20 to take the train.

LAST STATION IN NEW YORK.

ERIE, Pa., Sept. 26.—At Westfield, the la[illegible] station in New York at which the train stopped, people had assembled in large numbers, man[illegible] ladies being present, on foot and in carriages. Mr. Blaine, on being introduced, was greete[illegible] with three cheers. He said:

I am glad at the last station I shall stop at i[illegible] New York, to have the opportunity of again [illegible] [illegible] to New Yorkers my thanks for all th[illegible] kindness I have received since I entered the[illegible] state. I thank you, people of Westfield, for th[illegible] very kind reception. For the past two days I hav[illegible] been journeying through this great state, and hav[illegible] met everywhere the kindest reception. You al[illegible] [illegible] to the many compliments I have receive[illegible] and I thank you very sincerely for all that your r[illegible] reception implies. I don't in the least flatter mysel[illegible] that these great popular demonstrations are to m[illegible] personally; they are of a much higher an[illegible] greater significance, and they indicate the arous[illegible] [illegible] of the people of New York to the great issue[illegible] that are now offered in a peculiar sense to th[illegible] [illegible]. Of these issues it would be hardl[illegible] [illegible] for me to speak, and I content myself wit[illegible] [illegible] acknowledgments for the great con[illegible] [illegible]

AT ERIE.

ERIE, Pa., Sept. 26.—There was a fine demon[illegible] stration here. The crowd at the station num[illegible] bered about 3000, and was full of enthusiasm. Blaine was heartily cheered, and in respons[illegible] made a graceful allusion to his early life in th[illegible] keystone state. Judge Foraker of Ohio then de[illegible] livered a few remarks, which were very favor[illegible] ably received. The reception committee fro[illegible] Cleveland came on board at Erie, and also on[illegible] from Ashtabula.

ON THE BATTLE FIELD.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Sept. 26.—Soon after the train crossed the line between Pennsylvania and Ohio it stopped at the little station of Conneaut, first stop in the western reserve. Owing to some misunderstanding the people had only about an hour's notice of Blaine's coming, but there was a large gathering of men, women and children. When the candidate appeared the people cheered wildly. Blaine said:

I count it a matter of good fortune as it is [illegible] [illegible] source of gratification to myself that I [illegible] enter the state of Ohio through the old county of Ashtabula. [Applause.] I have never visited thi[illegible] [illegible] [illegible] I thank you sincerely and bid you good bye.

AT ASHTABULA.

At Ashtabula there was another large and enthusiastic crowd. Blaine had to leave the train and mount a platform, where all the people [illegible] see him. Said he:

I have already said, upon the border of your state, that to me it is a peculiar gratification that I enter Ohio through the county of Ashtabula. [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the counties in the union, like the [illegible] Lawrence in New York, Lancaster in Pennsylvania and Ashtabula in Ohio, that by the intensity of their convictions and the force of their action [illegible] themselves to the front so far that the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

THE ROUTE TO CLEVELAND.

The little town of Geneva was all excitement. The people shouted and cheered, and all wanted to shake hands with the distinguished candidate, who thanked them for their kind reception.

At Painesville the crowd was large and enthusiastic as at any other point. Here the local spokesman, in presenting Blaine, adverted to the latter's close relations with Garfield, and as Blaine stepped forward there was great and profound cheering. A similar incident had taken place at the towns of Conneaut and Ashtabula, which are also in the district formerly represented by General Garfield. Blaine spoke a few words of thanks, and then introduced Hon. [illegible] Tenney, of Brooklyn, who made a brief speech which was loudly applauded. Judge Foraker also spoke, and so did Rev. Mr. Poin[illegible] [illegible] of Ohio.

As the train approached Mentor it slowed up [illegible] [illegible] to give those on board an opportunity to see the Garfield farm and catch a glimpse of the house through the trees.

AT CLEVELAND.

Cleveland was reached at [illegible] o'clock. There was a great gathering in and around the depot. The winding roadway leading from the railroad to the level bluff on which the city stands was [illegible] with men, women and children, and when [illegible] came out of the depot and was driven to [illegible] the hotel he received cheer after cheer. [illegible] office and corridors of the hotel were crowded, and as at other places, there were [illegible] [illegible] to clear a way and keep order. Blaine went at once to his room, but was soon called out by the young men's republican club, [illegible] came to pay their respects. He received [illegible] from the hotel balcony, and in response to repeated demands for a speech said:

[illegible] [illegible] for this cordial welcome to Cleve[illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] I think the young men who [illegible] [illegible] hopeful and encouraging sign that in this year [illegible] young men of the United States, more [illegible] than at any time I have known, are taking an active and prominent part in the national contest. I [illegible] from it good results. Again I tender you my thanks for the very kind reception you have given [illegible] and bid you good night. [Cheers.]

A GREAT CROWD GATHERS.

Before 8 o'clock Monumental Park, opposite [illegible] Federal building, and the stand from which Blaine was expected to review the procession was densely packed, and thousands were going away disappointed because they could not find standing room in sight of the stand.

At 7:30 Blaine was escorted by the local committee to the Federal building, where a considerable number of ladies and gentlemen were presented to him, while he was waiting for the procession. For a few minutes he stood surrounded by friends at a window, and looked out. Someone outside recognized him, and shouted his name. Immediately there were general and great cries of "Blaine," and he was forced to retire to an inner room till the time should arrive for him to appear on the stand.

About [illegible] o'clock Blaine and Mr. Logan, accompanied by ex-Governor Foster, ex-Senator [illegible] and other distinguished gentlemen, went out to the front of the stand, and stood there uncovered, while the people cheered and yelled, and made all kinds of enthusiastic demonstrations. By this time not merely the park but all the adjacent streets were filled with a surging mass of humanity, and when the procession began to force its way through the scene became exciting and alarming, because there were many ladies, and a considerable number of old and a very large number of young people in the crowd, and it seemed likely that some of them would be thrown down and trampled. However, nothing of that kind occurred, and the procession slowly made its way [illegible] and was still passing and being reviewed by the candidates at 11:20 o'clock. It is said that about [illegible] from interior towns came in for the procession, and some of the clubs taking part in the procession came from places seventy [illegible] distant.

Before the review began Logan spoke briefly from the stands, and speeches were made by several other gentlemen.

After the review, Blaine and his son, Walker, went to the house of Mrs. Garfield, whose guests they were to be until Monday next. To-[illegible] Blaine, and possibly Logan, will visit [illegible] which is forty minutes by rail from
